

Fastest Birds In The World : Guess It?

Fastest Birds In The World: Are you searching for the "Fastest Birds in the World?". Also, looking for questions like what is the fastest bird in the world? And want to know everything about Birds.

Then you are in the correct place to be.

On this info page, we are going to help you increase your curiosity about birds. And will answer some interesting and mind-boggling questions answers about birds. So read with patience till the end.

Before we dive into the concepts about Fastest birds, that you should know some basic concepts about birds.

Now you will ask: To which Animal Kingdom do Birds Belongs?

So the Birds Belongs to Chordata Phylum: These are the ones which are said to be having Vertebrate meaning they are having the "Backbone".

Chordata are classified into 5 different classes:

1. Fishes
2. Amphibians
3. Reptiles
4. Aves
5. Mammals

And Here number 4 Aves we are talking about in this post.

So Aves or Birds divided into two parts ie Flying and non-flying. They have the following characteristics: They have 4 chambered Heart.

They do their excretion through the Kidney.

They are Warm-blooded: meaning They cannot adjust their temperature . Like we human beings during winter, we have to wear warm clothes because we are warm-blooded.

You can have from Ostrich: 9-foot tall flightless birds to Hummingbird is smallest two-inch birds.

Here is your list of Fastest Birds In the World:

We provided some important facts as well for your reference with their Speed in Kilometres.

No. 10: Anna's hummingbird

Anna's Hummingbird belongs to the family of Trochilidae birds. Why it is Name Anna? Because of Anna Masséna, Duchess of Rivoli. found in Coastal regions of North America(US).

It has an iridescent bronze-green back, a pale grey chest and belly, and green flanks.

Greatest Speed: 98.27 km/h

Scientific name	Calypte anna
-----------------	--------------

Family	Trochilidae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 9. Grey-headed albatross

This is the Largest among the albatross family of sea birds. It feeds at high altitudes and does its nesting in isolated islands. It is also known as grey-headed mollymawk.

Greatest Speed: 127 km/h

Family	Mollymawk
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata

Kingdom	Animalia
---------	----------

No. 8. Rock dove (pigeon)

This bird is a Member of the Columbidae Bird family. It is also called a pigeon.

They are the forefathers of your domestic pigeons.

Greatest Speed: 148.9 km/h

Scientific name	Columba livia
Family	Columbidae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata

Kingdom	Animalia
---------	----------

No. 7. Red-breasted merganser.

This bird belongs to the Anatidae bird family. It found in the freshwater lakes and rivers across northern North America, Greenland, Europe, and Asia.

Greatest Speed: 129 km/h

Scientific name	Mergus serrator
Conservation status	Least Concern
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 6. Spur-winged goose

They are the largest waterfowl found in Africa. They are largest species of goose in the world. They have spurs on their wings hence different types of Geese they are.

They have some poisonous spikey bits on their wings.

It is a large bird in the family of Anatidae and found in the wetlands of sub-Saharan Africa.

Largest Speed: 142 km/h

Family	Anatidae
--------	----------

Genus	Plectropterus
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 5. Frigatebird

Frigatebirds are a family of seabirds called Fregatidae. They found across all tropical and subtropical oceans.

The five extant species classified in a single genus, Fregata. All have black plumage, long, forked tails, and long hooked bills.

It belongs to the Fregatidae bird family and found across all tropical and subtropical oceans. Largest Speed: 153 km/h

Scientifica name	Fregatidae
Order	Suliformes
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 4. Eurasian hobby

It is a hobby. It is small in size and slim also. It belongs to the Falconidae bird family. It is a long-distance migrant, wintering in Africa and Asia.

Greatest Speed: 160 km/h

Family	Falconidae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 3. White-throated needletail

Known as needle-tailed swift or spine-tailed swift. It has a white-throated needle tail. It is a migratory bird, breeding in Central Asia. And southern Siberia, and wintering south in the Indian Subcontinent, Southeast Asia, and Australia.

It belongs to the Apodidae bird family.

Largest Speed: 169 km/h

Genus	Hirundapus
Family	Apodidae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 2. Golden eagle

This is best known for its Prey in Northern Hemisphere. Most found species of eagle. It belongs to the family Accipitridae. They are of Dark brown and light golden-brown plumage on their napes.

Largest Speed: 240–320 km/h

Scientific Name	Aquila chrysaetos
Family	Accipitridae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

No. 1. Peregrine falcon

Belongs to Falconidae bird family? Characteristics: It is a large, crow-sized falcon, it has a blue-grey back, barred white underparts, and a blackhead.

Largest Speed: 389 km/h

Scientific Name	Falco peregrinus
Family	Falconidae
Class	Aves
Phylum	Chordata
Kingdom	Animalia

I hope you might have liked the fastest flying bird in the world. Let us know in the comment section: Have you ever live seen these birds flying. What are your views? Kindly share the knowledge with your friends.